Friends of Railroad Telegraphers Had a Happy Night.

The railroad telegraphers comprising all those employed on the Delaware and Hudson and Ontario and Western railroads and organized into Division No. 55, National Order of Railroad Telegraphers, conducted a most successful dance last night in the Knights of Columbus club house.

The rooms were tastefully decorated, a number of telegraph instruments being displayed conspicuously in the ball room. The 125 couples present tramped through a dance programme of twenty-two numbers to music furnished by Lawrence's Hall orchestra.

The committee having the affair in charge consisted of the following members of the organization: P. F. Kilker, of Mayfield; M. P. O'Malley, of Wilkes-Barre; Julian De Graw, of Simpson; M. V. Moot, of Miners Mills; Hubert Fitzpatrick and D. P. Pace, of Scranton; F. H. Gilham, of Dickson City; William Davy, of Archibald; John J. O'Malley, D. B. ANNUAL ROLL CALL.

It Will Be Held Tonight at the Penn Avenue Baptist Church—The Invitation Issued.

An invitation has been extended to the more than eight hundred members of the Penn Avenue Baptist church to be present at the annual roll-call and church social this evening. Address will be delivered by the pastor and other official members, and plans will be discussed for broadening the work of the church. Penn Avenue is the largest Baptist church in Northwestern Pennsylvania. The following letter has been sent to all the members:

October 29, 1901.

A general invitation is being extended to every member of the Penn Avenue Baptist church to attend the annual roll-call and church social to be held in the church parlor Wednesday evening next, Oct. 31, at 8 o'clock sharp.

We desire that this should be a great church rally and hope that every member will special effort to be present.

Our old Penn Avenue church has so much to rejoice over. Among them is continuing devoted and zealous pastor, a united and loyal membership, a large and growing Sunday school great congregation, especially Sabbath evenings, good and interesting, offering wide opportunities for personal development, a liberal financial condition and a bright future. We earnestly hope that our church will call all its talents to its service and help in plan for the future.

Please tell all the members and their friends to come to the meeting. The meeting of the church will give the time of calling the names from the register, and we can discuss a large part of the church in the social gathering.

Unusually detailed plans are being made to fit the pastor or clerk according your desire in the affairs of the church.

At the Annual Roll Call L. M. Gilham, Clerk.

BUTLER DID A LITTLE WORK.

He Got Punched, but He Did Some Punching Himself.

James F. Butler, of 601 West Linden street, yesterday caused the arrest of John Smith and Anna Flitcock, the former on the charge of keeping a bawdy house and the latter on the charge of living in adultery with Alderman Kasson. The history of the case.

These people, your Honor, became so united a few nights ago that I was obliged to call upon them in disperses.
They refused to do so, and I was obliged to use force. In using force upon your Honor, I received those," pointing to several scratches and bruises on his face. "But I am pleased to say that Smith received those"—indicating two massive blisters covered with con-pus, livid and swollen, on Mr. Smith's head.

The alderman committed Smith to the county jail in default of bail, and released Mrs. Flitcock on her own recognizance, because of her three small children.

William Watling, of North Broad Avenue, has returned home from Butte City, Montana, where he spent the past year.

LUTHER LEAGUE CONVENTION

NORTHEASTERN CENTRAL CON-FERENCE IN SESSION.

Delegates Representing Eight Churches Gathered Yesterday in the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church on Adams Avenue, Three Sessions Being Held—Largely Attended Memorial Service in the Night in Honor of the Late E. W. Lemitzer, President of the League.

to the world at large and to do active, energetic service for the cause of Christ.

Rev. A. L. Ramer followed with an eloquent address on "The Ideal Citizen." He spoke feelingly of the dead president of the league and said that he would speak on some of those qualities which distinguished him from other citizens.

"Citizenship in This Land of Ours," he said, is almost synonymous with kingship elsewhere. Every citizen is a share of the responsibility in the preservation and the perpetuation of this glorious heritage of liberty which we enjoy as citizens of the United States. Not all, it is safe to say, take any equal and proper interest in this sacred duty. Some sell their birthright for a mess of pottage and others are engaged in undermining the solid foundations of our civil institutions for the sake of personal gain."

RECOGNITION OF DUTY.

The fervent enthusiasm of the ideal citizen, the speaker declared, is the recognition of duty. The ideal citizen seeks to apply the proper safeguards to the preservation of law and order.

Continuing he said:

"I am also constrained to say that Mr. Lemitzer, who at the time of his removal from the earthly to the heavenly citizenship had enjoyed the honored leadership of this body of young people, gave abundant proof of a noble man and an ideal citizen. With more but half as much effort, made known to the public, he had undoubtedly made a greater contribution to the welfare of our nation than any other man in the same period of time."

Another movement to bring about a general strike was inaugurated last Friday by The Tribune.
The initiation of the strike, it is said, is no mere逞ing of definite good results than some other somewhat similar efforts that preceded it nothing is to be gained by saying more than that intervention has not been altogether discarded as positively futile.

The executive board of the strikers and the special committee of the Central Labor union, appointed to assist in the conduct of the strike, had another session last night. What transpired was not given out. It is understood that the principal idea discussed was a plan of campaign for an indefinite period.

Six more imports deserted the company yesterday. They stated that the company still has sixty-eight motor men and about as many more conductors, twenty or thirty of the latter being farm hands recruited from the adjacent country districts. One of the deserters, who has been here for a week, said the biggest day's business done on any car he ran was ten cents each and one transfer.

ANOTHER EFFORT.

Another movement to bring about a general strike was initiated last Friday by The Tribune.

efforts that preceded it nothing is to be gained by saying more than that intervention
has not been altogether discarded as positively futile.

The strikers feel confident that the public will never patronize the cars as long as they are operated by import men and that before many days the company will realize this and come to terms with its former employees, rather than have that have its road bankrupt.

There is no appreciable increase in the number of persons riding on the lines other than the Laurel Hill, Green Bridge, Suburban and Dunmore. The public along the other lines seem to have concluded that trolley cars are a superlative. The business men in the central city continue to suffer grievously and some of them grow wary in their condemnation of strikers and strikers in general as they contemplate the possibility of their being shattered for possibly many weeks more.
